01

Background & Opportunity

A major government agency was tasked to meet the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) for this particular east African country by 2015. The eight MDGs which range from halving extreme poverty rates to halting the spread of HIV/AIDS and providing universal primary education, all by the target date of 2015 – form a blueprint agreed to by all the world’s countries and all the world’s leading development institutions.

02

Challenges

Following the MDGs, this government agency sought to understand the implications of these development goals to implement the necessary changes. Agency leadership needed help understanding the full scope of the agency’s responsibilities under the MDG and defining the necessary technology strategy and road map to fulfill those responsibilities. The client turned to Bluehawk for support.

03

Solution

Bluehawk’s solution was to help the agency achieve the MDGs by:

- Establishing a new IT-enabled organization and operating model
- Defining a vision and the associated technologies to support that vision
- Spurring greater collaboration between its business and IT units

04

Client Impact

- The agency successfully met 80% of the assigned Millennium Development Goals within the timeframe allotted to it.
